

A Year in Review with Ausherman Family Foundation

As we reflect on 2024, we are grateful for the Frederick community's collaboration and support, which has helped drive meaningful progress. Last year, we remained focused on addressing immediate community needs through data-informed decision-making and by bringing people together for inclusive conversations. From strengthening nonprofits and supporting leadership transitions to investing in youth initiatives and public spaces, we continue working alongside our partners to create lasting impact. We look forward to building on this momentum in the year ahead.
